CODE OF CONDUCT

Dear Colleagues,

Agro Tech Foods wants to be one of India's most successful and respected Food Companies. Adherence to the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior is fundamental to these goals. Our brands and our businesses have a very good reputation with our customers and consumers. The Agro Tech Foods name must also be synonymous with ethical behavior and sound business practices.

Our reputation depends on each of us fulfilling our responsibilities to each other, to our consumers, to our suppliers and customers, to our shareholders, to the marketplace and to the communities in which we do business. The Agro Tech Foods Code of Conduct sets out guidelines for fulfilling these responsibilities.

The legal responsibilities and ethical standards found in our Code of Conduct are not new. Agro Tech Foods has had high standards for ethical business practices for many years. While business practices and our business environment may change over time, our commitment to the highest standards of integrity and responsibility remain constant. We have adopted this Code of Conduct to reinvigorate and renew our commitment to the highest standards of conduct. We believe that conducting business legally and ethically is an essential part of our goal of becoming one of India's most successful Food Companies.

We understand that a Code of Conduct cannot anticipate and address every situation. In many situations, common sense and good judgment are our best guide. All of us must remember that when we act on behalf of Agro Tech Foods, our company's reputation for honesty and integrity is in our hands.

Failure to observe these guidelines may result in disciplinary action by the company depending upon the type and severity of the violation, whether it causes any liability or loss to the company, and/or the presence of any repeated violation(s).

Passwords

Here are the guidelines for selecting a password:

1. The password must contain a minimum of 7 characters
2. The password must contain characters from each of the 3 classes below:

Upper case: (A, B, C ... Z) Lower

Case (a, b, c ... z) Numbers

(1,2,3...9)

3. Keep your password secret. Do not share it with others.
4. Refrain from writing your password on a note attached to your monitor or storing it in other easily accessible places.
5. Choose a password that is easy for you to remember, but difficult for others to guess.
6. Password history is validated, and maintained for twelve periods.
7. Passwords are to be changed by the user every forty-five days, or less.

Desktop and Work Area Security

The security of the data accessible from your desktop computer and your personal work area is your responsibility. Here are some important guidelines:

1. You are required to use a password-protected screensaver. To choose a screensaver, right-click on any open area of your desktop and select properties. Click on the screensaver tab and select a screensaver that you like. Make sure the password-protected box is checked, and make sure the wait time is set at 15 minutes or less. The purpose of this is twofold: first, to protect your monitor from screen burn; second, to safeguard your pc from unauthorized access when you step away.
2. At the end of your shift shut down your workstation. To shut down click on start and select shutdown. From the options box choose shutdown. Once you get the message 'It is safe to turn off your computer' switch off the PC and monitor OR if your monitor goes blank when PC switches off automatically during this process, switch off your monitor alone.

3. Take care with the types of items you leave at your workstation. Be sure to keep any floppy diskettes with sensitive or confidential data in a secure place. If you are a laptop user, consider the nature of the data you keep stored on the laptop or any diskettes you keep in the carrying case and consider the potential consequences if it is stolen.
4. Never copy sensitive or confidential information to Public areas on the file server. Make sure that it is stored in an area that has access for only those who should view it. If you have a question or concern of this type, contact the ATFL Helpdesk or a member of the ATFL IT support staff.
5. Verify the printer location PRIOR to printing any potentially sensitive files. Promptly retrieve your jobs from network printers.

Virus Prevention

Nearly 50,000 computer viruses are known to be in existence today, with about 250 new ones discovered each month. These viruses fall into many different categories, with differing means of delivery and differing payloads. Some are relatively harmless, such as ones that display an irksome message, while others are capable of destroying data or even rendering your machine incapable of functioning.

While we employ state-of-the art antivirus software on both our servers and workstations, it is still vital that our computer users employ safe practices with regard to virus prevention. Here are your responsibilities:

1. Do not install any software on your pc that you brought from home, downloaded from the Internet or received via email. The Internet and email attachments are particularly rich sources of viruses. The only software installed on your pc should be company-issued; any 3rd party screensavers, games or non-company issued software is subject to removal at the discretion of ATFL IT, no questions asked.
2. Refrain from double-clicking on any files sent to you via email with the following extensions: exe, com, bat, shs, vbs and scr. While they may have come from a friend or look cute or intriguing, they often serve as a vehicle for the transmission of a virus.
3. As a rule, do not bring floppy disks from home. If you must take a disk home to work, make sure to scan it with Trend Office Scan when you return. If you do not know how to do this, or if Trend reports that one or more files are infected, contact a member of your ATFL IT staff.
4. Users are responsible for assuring that their virus protection is kept up-to-date. A full PC virus scan should be completed once a month on any ATFL-supplied equipment. Any questions regarding this procedure should be directed to a member of your ATFL IT staff.

ATFL Remote Access Policy

Participation in a remote access program may not be possible for every employee. It is the goal of ATFL to limit remote access. Remote access is meant to be an alternative method for employees to complete work outside of business hours. ATFL may refuse to extend remote access privileges to any employee or terminate a remote access arrangement at any time.

It is the policy of the Company that employees will avoid conflict of interest situations. The Company will establish procedures to ensure that all situations be reported where there is either the appearance of or the potential for a conflict of interest.

The underlying principle to be used in determining if a conflict of interest situation should be reported is solely whether there would be the appearance or the potential for a conflict of interest. It is not a question of whether the individual will use confidential information for personal benefit, or would allow a conflict to adversely affect Company decisions. Several areas of potential conflict exist:

- All transactions by an employee of Agro Tech Foods with the Company or any of its affiliates will be at arms length and at fair market prices. All exceptions must be fully disclosed and approved by the Managing Director prior to consummation. All transactions involving the Managing Director will require the approval of the Chairman of Agro Tech Foods prior to consummation.
- Gifts, gratuities or favors received from or offered by outsiders other than those of a nominal amount, that could be in any way construed to be related to one's employment with Agro Tech Foods, must be fully disclosed and approved either by a member of the Leadership Team or by the Managing Director. If a member of the Leadership Team is the recipient, approval must be obtained from the Managing Director, and in the case of the Managing Director, from the Chairman of Agro Tech Foods.
- Employees whose responsibilities include selling, marketing, transportation, purchasing or leasing of any type for the account of the Company need to exercise particular discretion to avoid a possible conflict of interest.

- Employees will not actively or passively participate in any way with competitors, suppliers, or customers' businesses, or use confidential Company information for personal gain. Any participation by an employee, whether as owner, shareholder, partner, employee, director or consultant with any competitor, supplier or customer's business shall be disclosed.
- All employees who have access to information concerning oils, grain, grain products, meats, meat by-products, or any other commodity markets should not be involved in trading in these markets either cash or futures for their personal accounts either directly or indirectly through partners or associates. Employees of the businesses engaged in such commodities are presumed to have access to such information. Employees who are involved in businesses noncompetitive with Agro Tech Foods may engage in normal hedging practices.
- You should disclose any transaction (or series of transactions) with Agro Tech Foods (or any of its affiliates), or with any supplier or customer of Agro Tech Foods (or any of its affiliates) with whom you have dealings, involving you (or any relative or affiliated entity of yours) which involves Rs.1,000 or more.

The appearance of a potential conflict of interest may exist if any of the transactions described in the preceding paragraphs involve a relative of yours or an affiliated entity of yours. Transactions by such persons should be reported on this form. A 'relative' is your spouse, child, parent, brother and sister. An 'affiliated entity' is a corporation, partnership, joint venture or other entity in which you or one of your 'relatives' is a partner, director, officer or owner of 10% or more of the equity interest in the entity.

At least once a year, each salaried employee from Grade C14 and above, and such other employees as may be designated by the Managing Director of the Company, shall provide a disclosure to the Company on all potential conflict of interest matters referred to in this statement of policy. The employee shall also acknowledge that the employee has received and read ConAgra Foods Code of Conduct. Agro Tech Foods will follow the same Code of Conduct. However, its overall administration in India will rest with the Managing Director. If the employee becomes aware of a potential conflict of interest after signing this form, the employee will immediately sign a new form and transmit it to a member of with Leadership Team or the Managing Director if the person reporting is a member of the Leadership Team. Employees who report a conflict of interest may be required to furnish a copy of the appropriate documentation to the Managing Director. Failure on the part of any such individual to timely sign and return a conflict of interest response, or otherwise comply with this Policy, may result in termination of employment or forfeiture of company benefits. Only the Managing Director has the authority to approve any interpretations or deviations of this policy.

- I do not have a Conflict of Interest.
- I have received and read ConAgra Foods Code of Conduct.
